2 DEAD, 2 CRITICAL IN HEAD-ON CRASH

A Lindsay couple were killed and their two young daughters critically injured in a suppertime head-on collision last Saturday on Highway 35 north of Miners Bay. They were returning home at the time from a visit with friends in Haliburton village.

Dead are former Donald residents Laurence F. Dagg, 43 and his wife Jean, age 42.

In critical condition in Toronto Hospital for Sick Children is a daughter Karen, 10, who sustained severe head and brain injuries. A second daughter, Lee Anne, age 8, is on the critical list at Ross Memorial Hospital, Lindsay, with multiple fractures.

Son of the dead couple, Wayne Dagg, 16, was treated at Minden hospital and released. The remaining two Dagg children, Kathy, 15, and Terry, 13, were in Lindsay at the time of the accident. According to police the southbound Dagg car had pulled out to overtake and pass another vehicle when it collided head-on with a northbound car. No one in the Dagg car was wearing seat belts.

Driver and sole occupant of the northbound auto was Richard H. Calvert, 18, also of Lindsay. A student, Mr. Calvert was taken to Lindsay's Ross Memorial Hospital with a dislocated elbow and severe lacerations to the hands and face.

Police had high praise for the efforts of Minden ambulance attendant Dwight Thomas citing his expert first aid and constant attention to Karen Dagg both at the scene of the accident and during the ambulance run to the Lindsay hospital.

Damage to the two vehicles is estimated at $4,000. Investigating is Provincial Constable Barry Connelly. Attending coroner was Dr. Harry Gaud of Haliburton.

The First!

First baby born in Haliburton County in 1975 was this young man who arrived at Haliburton Red Cross Hospital at 4.50 p.m. New Year's day. Shown with his mother, Crystal, wife of Lee Stamp, West Guilford, is new arrival Jason who weighed in at 7 pounds, 3 ounces.

Norm Maidens dies suddenly

Well-known Haliburton County figure and popular Minden Progress columnist, Norm Maidens died early Monday afternoon at Minden Red Cross Hospital.

In his 62nd year, he died as the result of a heart attack suffered earlier that same day.

Plagued by ill health for more than 20 years, Mr. Maidens had successfully battled first diabetes, then heart disease and, during the past 18 months, cancer. He had been admitted to hospital just last Thursday for treatment of a diabetic condition.

Although born to a Blind River mining family, Mr. Maidens was raised and educated in Lindsay where, following completion of a series of 4H courses in Toronto he joined Ontario Hydro. He served with Ontario Hydro for 31 years.

An ardent athlete in his youth Mr. Maidens was active in both track and field and boxing, for which he won numerous medals and awards in area contests.

The year 1940 was a major landmark in the life of Mr. Maidens. That was the year he married Mary Watt of Haliburton. It was also the year he was moved to Fenelon Falls as area manager for Ontario Hydro.

Later, a move to Kingston as assistant to the area manager was followed by a move to Minden in the same capacity in the mid '50's.

At that time Mr. and Mrs. Maidens moved into Minden's beloved Clergy House, then fought for years and successfully, to have it recognized as an historic site. In the process, he formed and headed the Minden Historical Society.

In the Spring of 1968 Norm began his Here and There with Fenwick Finch column in the Progress, a weekly feature that soon became most reading and made his pseudonym Fenwick Finch

Carnival plans promise exciting weekend

With Christmas and New Years festivities over, the Minden Kinsmen Club is now centering its efforts around the Minden Kinsmen Winter Carnival. Tremendous support from the Municipality and the business community has been offered and gratefully received by carnival chairmen Kinsmen Elden Deacon and Lyle Mcknight who have assembled over a dozen individuals from the club as 'Events Chairmen' and who are also channeling the help offered by community-spirited individuals and organizations. All efforts are in keeping with the goal of making the Minden Kinsmen Winter Carnival an annual showplace of winter sports, participation and family entertainment only by the beauty of our Highlands' and the hospitality and adventurous spirit of its inhabitants.

The Weekend will be kicked off Friday night, January 31 with a 'Hoe-Down' for the young people at the Archie Stouffer Auditorium. Friday night is also the date for the Carnival Queen Contest, followed by a major Minden Monarch game in the Recreation Centre arena. After the game, refreshments and entertainment in the upstairs auditorium.

Saturday, February 1, will be organized around such events as horse drawn hayrides back from the town to the carnival centre in the recreation grounds, snowmobile drags and other snowmobile activities, skating events, hockey games,

HERE and THERE with Fenwick Finch

Well, this here's the last column for 1974. As we look back over the past year we recall events that have happened, friends that have passed on (and, each year there seems to be more of them), accidents, etc., that have been fatal and expensive and in most cases unnecessary.

However, we can't live in the past and we have no way of knowing what the future has for us. We all make mistakes, some of the biggest men in the world make mistakes---all you can do is pick yourself up, learn from your mistakes and stop worrying. There is one little couplet that has always stood me in good stead.

'The moving Finger writes; and,
having writ,
moves on: nor all your Piety nor
Wit
Shall lure it back to cancel half a line,
nor all your tears wash out a word
of it.'

I've always been held up and strengthened [illegible] about a half dozen real close friends: Hartley Hanlson and 'Bill' Macdonald, Clayton Rogers (Uncle Dudley), Chris Wahlrothe (no matter how low you feel this fellow soon picks you up). Lawrence Pritchard has never ceased to amaze me I don't know of anyone who has the strength and will he has. In the years I've known him I've never known him to back down from anything he knew was right.

I owe a great deal to my many other well wishers who have helped me over some rough spots. It makes me feel very humble that I seem to be unable to return in any great measure the assistance they have all given me. Whenever I'm heavy hit these people come to my aid and bolster me up.

I may not have much in the way of worldly goods but I wouldn't trade all I have for one of these friends. I look on myself as a 'Successful Failure' but, I'm a happy one.

But, that's enough of that, and before I get too maudlin and you think I'm losing my marbles and settlin' around Howland Jct. in my easy chair and blanket, in front of the fireplace with a bit of grog on the side---forgit it---I'm jest as ornery as I allus was.

(Norm Maidens died last Monday. His final 'Here and There With Fenwick Finch' appeared in the last issue of the Progress, December 26, 1974. We felt that a portion of that last column should be reprinted on behalf of his many friends and readers. Here it is. --Ed.)

and the name Howland Jct. bywords throughout Haliburton County and beyond.

A man who treasured and enjoyed life to the full and unfailingly found and extracted good out of even appalling situations, Mr. Maidens reaction on learning he had cancer in 1973 was to try and use this affliction to help other cancer victims and ease their terrors. The result was his series of ten articles in the Progress last Spring. 'Cancer A Personal Challenge' told the warm, human story of Princess Margaret Hospital and Lodge and the great work being done there.

A former member of the Minden Rotary Club, Mr. Maidens was one of the organizers of the Minden Winter Carnival in its formative years.

A member of St. Paul's Anglican Church, Mr. Maidens has donated his body to Queens University for medical research purposes.

A special memorial service, led by former St. Paul's minister, Father Andrew S. Hutchison, was held at St. Paul's Church Wednesday afternoon.

Those wishing to send flowers are asked instead to send a contribution to Princess Margaret Hospital through the Ontario Cancer Society.

Surviving Mr. Maidens in addition to his wife Mary, are a brother Bruce of Lindsay, two daughters Patricia Ann (Raymond) and Norma Jean (Burk), both of Minden, and four grandchildren.

figure skating, broom ball, Kinsmen chuck wagon for refreshments on the grounds the Kinsmen beer garden in the auditorium, games of chance, helicopter rides, carnival parade and bands, tug-of-war, curling bonspiel and of course, the Saturday Night Minden Kinsmen Winter Carnival Dance to round it out.

Sunday, February 2, will open with the Carnival Church Service and a continuation of the events that you found fun and exciting either as a participant or spectator the day before. Also, to Sunday February 2, add the Whipper Billy Watson Snowerama, which is expected to draw several hundred participants. It is sponsored by Rotary International, with two starting points, one in Minden and one in Haliburton. You'll be wishing the weekend would never end! Still more events are under discussion by the various committees and will be worked into the program, all of which will be laid out in our free Minden Kinsmen Winter Carnival Program to be available shortly. The Committee is doing everything to make this an event worthy of your support, participation and fun---the weatherman has often been an unknown factor in the past, but Kinsmen Jim Bushell says he's working on that already, with enough energy left over to reflect on any other areas where needed. Don't forget the dates, January 31, February 1 and 2, 1975.

Snowdon council complete

It took two elections in less than a month, but Snowdon Township finally came up with three councillors to complete its 5-man council for the next two years.

The December 23 election for two seats on council saw newcomer Donald G. Smedmor head the polls with 86 votes on a 'no regional government' platform. Trailing Mr. Smedmor by just three votes was Gerald Hicks.

Early in December voters picked Bob Vick as reeve and Ron Graham as deputy-reeve, along with John Francis, the lone contender for the office of councillor.

Detailed results of the December 23 election for the two remaining council seats are as follows:

W. BROWN	78
J. CONGDON	82
G. HICKS	85E
O. HOMESTEAD	17
D. SMEDMOR	88E

Old age I.D. cards

Health and Welfare Minister Marc Lalonde has announced that his department will issue special identification cards to all persons who are receiving Old Age Security benefits.

Cards will be issued automatically on a phased basis starting in the first quarter of 1975 and will affect some 1.9 million OAS recipients. Pensioners will not be required to make application---the issuance will be fully automatic.

Old Christmas trees useful in garden

After Christmas, a Christmas tree indoors is a fire hazard. Throw it out---but into the garden, not into the garbage. In the garden, there are many uses for discarded Christmas trees.

'A few branches, cut and laid on the ground to form a mulch, will protect roses, strawberries, chrysanthemums, and other special plants,' suggests Ontario Ministry of Agriculture and Food horticulturist R.F. Gomme. 'The branches trap snow, and snow is one of the best insulators. It forms an even cover and costs nothing. Mulches prevent the freezing and thawing which heaves the roots and damages plants.'

Other uses for the Christmas tree: Evergreen needles and small cut up branches could be dug into the garden next spring to improve the soil texture. Flowering bulbs in pots can be rooted outdoors in trenches, for later indoor forcing, if the soil in the trench is protected by thick layers of Christmas tree boughs. In addition, discarded trees make excellent bird shelters and feeding stations.

A NEW YEAR'S MESSAGE

Pierre Elliott Trudeau
Prime Minister

When we exchange gifts during the holiday season, we are expressing our feelings of affection, esteem and gratitude. We are moving closer together, and showing more openly than usual, our mutual goodwill. We are confirming, in a concrete and friendly way – perhaps a small way, but nonetheless real – the ties that unite us with those near and dear to us.

But the presents we give to one another have a further significance: they are as well the symbol of a universal sharing, and a reminder of what is a basic necessity to all forms of life.

In effect, no living thing can survive without sharing. This is true of nature; it is true of human society. All forms of life have an indispensable ability to give or to receive. What is ecology, if not the science of natural sharing? And what is ecological balance, if not the result of an equitable sharing among all elements of our environment, including human beings? To live is to share.

In primitive societies, there was no alternative but to share. In advanced societies, sharing is the subject of legislation because the very abundance of goods weakens natural restraints and increases the likelihood of unfair shares. Even in such a privileged country as Canada, we have had to legislate against inequality in its various forms as severely as would be necessary in countries much less privileged than ours.

I invite my fellow citizens to rejoice in what has been given to us as Canadians: the good fortune to be united in a federation, a system of government whose most distinct attribute is the sharing of wealth.

In future, Canadians are going to be forced by circumstances into even greater sharing, and this will not be easy, but I know that we will be equal to the challenge facing the entire country, and thus each one of us.

It will not be easy, either, to share more, as we have promised, with less favoured nations, the millions of men, women and children in the Third World who face hunger and starvation, but I am sure that our generosity will be worthy of our abundance.

I trust that our longstanding traditions and our present attitudes will prepare us for these far more pressing demands that will be made on us in the future, and on which depend – as we have already seen – the salvation of the human race and the survival of life on this planet.

We must, nevertheless, be open to the joys of the season. Our joy, I am sure, will not be superficial, for it is sustained and kindled by hopes that are bright. It is in this spirit that I extend to you my wishes for health and happiness during the new year.

This cartoon by Ralph Linstead aptly tells the latest episode in the life of the Minden Streaker...a New Year's Day snowmobile ride down Minden's main street and back. The Godiva-like rider's biggest hazard was a barrage of snowballs from a group of small boys. He is believed to be a stranger in town as no one was able to recognize him with his clothes off.

So Long Norm

In our brief stint at the helm of the Progress the one question recurring again and again is "what is that Norm Maidens really like?" and, of course, its complementary question "what's that Fenwick Finch really like?"

I'd like to tell you about Norm and Fen. For some of you who've known them both for years none of this will come as much of a surprise.

Let's face it. Fen was an old curmudgeon, a character dreamed up by Norm as a counterpoint; as a means of achieving attention for, then emphasizing whatever point he was trying to make.

Curmudgeon he might be, but Fen was a much-loved curmudgeon because no matter how hard Norm tried he just couldn't completely remove all traces of himself from Fenwick's character.

Norm? Norm loved people; all kinds of people; any kind of people. He was an idealist to put most of today's so-called idealists to shame; mainly because he really and truly loved people, believed in them and felt deeply for them in times of happiness, in times of sadness and in all those other times in between.

But Norm was also the consummate realist; nobody's patsy unless he wanted it that way. And he successfully bridged the supposed gap between Norm the idealist and Norm the realist by means of a monumental and abiding Christian faith.

Mind you, his pixielike sense of humor was a great help at times too. Like the time during a period of ill-health when he advised a minister who offered to pray for him not to bother as 'I am still quite able to speak up on my own behalf'.

In his close to nine years as a Progress columnist, Norm and Fen and Howland Jct. developed a pretty fair following; a tremendous following, in fact.

Occasionally, Fenwick Finch would briefly run out of steam and 'turn the colyum over t' Maidens for a spell'. The switchover was always deft; seldom if ever did the two distinctive Finch and Maidens styles get intermixed. So deftly was this done, in fact, that many readers to this day believe them to be two separate individuals.

Regularly humorous, even ribald at times, Norm's and Fen's 'Here and There' ranged from devil's advocate and community conscience to the blatant but warranted promotion of the county and environs, its people and its business and commerce.

Get out of line and Norm would quickly set you straight, be it priorities, performance or both. Similarly, need a boost and you could count on Norm every time.

And now he's gone. Typically, he willed his body to medical research at Queens University (he said at the time that he'd always wanted to go to college and this would probably be the only way he'd ever get there).

He'll be greatly missed and the thoughts and hearts of all of us go out to Mary, Pat, Norma Jean and all the rest of the family in their loss.

But though gone, Norm will be remembered for a long, long time. He'll be part and parcel, if not always the main subject, of many a tale, many an anecdote. He'll be warmly and happily remembered for many a year and then some.

So long Norm.

ARWOOD FINANCIAL SERVICES

People on all economic levels complain that they simply do not know where their money goes. By instituting a simple budget plan you'll be able to keep track of all your expenses as well as set financial goals for your future.

The first step in setting up a budget is listing all your fixed expenses. These include your house payment or rent, car payment and insurance premiums. Add these up and subtract the total from your monthly net income. Now you have an idea of how much you have left over to cover more flexible expenses such as food, gasoline, telephone and entertainment. For these categories, estimate how much you think you should be spending each month. And don't forget to include regular deposits in a savings account.

Many find it helpful to keep their budget in a loose leaf binder with one page per expense category. Others use index cards. Whatever your method, remember to mark down all your expenses as you incur them. If you find you are overspending in one area and underspending in another, you may have to realign your allotments.

If you keep your budget alive and up-to-date, you'll find your battle with inflation going just a little bit more smoothly.

Letters to the Editor,
The Minden Progress,
Minden, Ontario.

After the overthrow of the Marxist Government of Salvador Allende of Chile in September 1973, our External Affairs Department, along with the Immigration Department, promised that Canada would accept between 300 and 500 refugees from this regime. Immigration rules were greatly relaxed in order to make this immigration as fast as possible. The usual criteria for admittance to Canada were waived; such as the point system, relative sponsorship and physical and mental health requirements. Only hasty health checks were made. The one definite rule set forth for these prospective immigrants was to swear an oath that 'they would not indulge in political activities until they had been in Canada long enough to become Canadian citizens'. This promise was quickly broken by one of their leaders, Mr. Jaime Iturra, who held a press conference upon landing at Malton Airport and invited interested persons to join him in the 'Committee for the Liberation of Chile'. Since that time this Committee has held meeting in Toronto. It would appear that many of these Chileans have not heard of the old adage most Canadians include in their code of ethics for honour and good citizenship — A Promise Made is a Debt Unpaid!

Apparently Mr. Andras has forgotten this part of our code of honour also. After his initial promise of November 29, 1973 that ONLY 300 to 500 Chilean refugees would be admitted, he announced on December 21, 1974 that a total of 1410 had gained entry to this country. On this same date, Mr. Andras also announced that Canada would accept 2000 more 'Chilean refugees from countries all over South America'. These also will be allowed entry under extremely relaxed Immigration rules.

Many Canadians believe our Government is making a grave error in this latest immigration, under the same very lenient rules. We are led to believe that our Immigration Department is unable to ascertain whether the 2000 people involved in this particular immigration are actually true citizens of Chile, or are as our Ambassador Ross labelled them 'the riff-raff of the left'. Aside from the above, many businessmen believe Canada is facing a severe economic crisis during the next several months, with an expected rise in unemployment. To further burden our welfare rolls and Unemployment Insurance Commission with an additional 2000 people who have no knowledge of our language or form of Government, seems unreasonable and points to a total lack of sensible economic planning. A more reasonable solution to the problem of relocating these refugees would be to extend some aid to them in settling permanently in a country whose climate is more suited to their needs — in language, weather and ideologically where they could practice what they preach.

If you are concerned about the speedy manner in which this second immigration wave is being processed, write and express your views to the Honourable Robert Andreas, Minister of Immigration, House of Commons, Ottawa, Ontario.

TODAY'S CHILD

BY HELEN ALLEN

THE TORONTO SUN SYNDICATE

Douglas very much wants to belong to a family. He's not being very specific about what kind of a family but he thinks it will be nice if they live in the country.

Douglas is 14, a tall, slim lad with brown curly hair, blue eyes (his glasses are for near sightedness) and freckles. His background is Anglo-Saxon.

In opportunity class, Douglas enjoys working with his hands and he has many interests and hobbies, including crafts and models. He is interested in stereo equipment, is a keen gardener and belongs to Scouts. He is sports-minded, with hockey, baseball and swimming his favorites.

Polite, pleasant Douglas will be a fine son for a family who will appreciate his personality and will help him develop his potential in non-academic areas.

To inquire about adopting Douglas, please write to Today's Child, Ministry of Community and Social Services, Box 888, Station K, Toronto M4P 2H2. For general adoption information, consult your local Children's Aid Society.

First Sunday recital

The Kawartha Festival's first Sunday Afternoon Recital was a big success December 29 as 48 persons turned out for an afternoon of folk singing by Debby and Mark Chamberlain and Tammy Blaicher of Little Britain and Blair Smith of Stouffville.

The crowd nearly filled the Lindsay Academy Theatre's reception room, a small recital hall which will hold close to 60.

The recitals, an idea put forward last fall and funded by a Government of Canada L.I.P. grant, will resume on January 12, then run each Sunday until the end of May.

The idea is to give exposure and experience to young artists from the Victoria-Haliburton area, as well as some from outside the immediate region.

While the audience included teenagers and students who came because of the folk singing, it also included senior citizens and several middle-aged couples.

Coffee and refreshments were served at the end of the concert, enabling the audience to talk to the artists about their music and training.

Details of the January 12 concert will be announced shortly.

HALL'S LAKE NEWS

by Doreen Stinson

Happy New Year to one and all! Seems strange that all the festivities are over and now everyone is looking forward to the school holiday break. With the nice fresh snow we find people coming back just for ordinary weekend excursions.

You will be pleased to learn that over 60 entries were judged for the recent Stanhope Firemen's contest open to all students in the County. The first prize went to Miss Carolyn Kinsman, second prize to Miss Joanne Hughes of Minden, and 3rd prize to Mr. David Barker. Congratulations to these enterprising young folk. The Judges were impartial so that the prizes were awarded for their quality and we trust we will see the actual entries posted somewhere shortly.

Mrs. William (Lizzie) Johnson has been away to Little Britain with her Grandson and his family over the holiday season.

We are sorry to learn that Mr. Don Goodwin of Huntsville who has been working closely with the Chamber of Commerce in Haliburton County for some years is being moved to Arnprior shortly. His position is with the Department of Tourism and Industry and they are making many changes all over the country. Don was always interested and helpful and has a quiet, pleasing personality, and we wish him well in his new location.

The New Year's Eve Party at Club 35 was a great success. The music was provided by Elmer Russell and his Boys--Scott and Sturart, Curtis Gartshore and Archie Trumbull. Our own favourite pianist 'Pop' Albert Hart was at the piano and the inimitable Bill Gartshore did the calling for Square Dancing. Florence Lindsay and her Committee did a wonderful job on the Buffet Supper at midnight. Art Hunt and Len Stinson put on a little Skit--the Old Year and the famous New Year's Baby which went over very well. Mr. and Mrs. Lou Penick of Hamilton provided the Club with beautiful decorations and the members had the hall looking like a professionally decorated ballroom. Capacity crowd with everyone having a good time made for a real good Party and guests from as far away as Kingston, Carlisle, Minden, Hamilton and other points joined in the fun. Thanks to all the hard workers who cleaned and cooked and decorated and tanks to all those who purchased tickets and attended! And thanks to Elmer and Bill and Albert Hart who volunteered their fine services! Also to the Penicks for those gorgeous decorations which we will keep for years to come.

The residents of Hyland Crest Home were treated to a sight-seeing tour around Minden the Saturday evening before Christmas to see the lovely coloured lighting which nearly everyone had adorning their homes and along the Main Street and stores. Along the Gull River where lights reflected in the water, was an especially pretty view. Frances Crawford drove the bus and Mrs. Rawlins, Mrs. Bursey and Mr. and Mrs. Dick Kirkwood helped with the residents -- and everyone enjoyed the tour very much.

Mr. and Mrs. Peter Klassen and family of Ethiopia were visitors of Miss Marjorie Johnson and Mrs. Wm. Gartshore from Dec. 21 to 23. It was nice to meet them at St. Stephen's at the Candlelight service on the Sunday afternoon.

The Wrightman's had a houseful of visitors and relatives over the Holiday Season, enjoying their large and comfortable home at the South end of Hall's Lake.

Carolyn and Rick Fuerth and little Jason were 'home' for Christmas with Carolyn's Mom at Little Hawk Lodge, from Woodslee.

Mr. and Mrs. 'Bud' Green and their family were at the Lake over the holiday and attended the Party at Club 35 of which they are Members. They come from Carlisle.

Several local couples attended a New Year's Eve Party at 'Lil Chic Inn and report having had a very nice time. Many of the Stanhope Fire Brigade attended that party.

The Christmas Party at Hyland Crest put on by the Auxiliary yearly was as usual well attended and a fun time for everyone, especially Dear Old Santa (Syd Brown) and his charming Elf (Lil Rawlins) and the cunning Clown (Cy Heel). An attractively decorated tree in the lounge was well surrounded with gayly wrapped gifts for all, including the residents confined to their beds. Goodies -- tea biscuits with jam and cheese, Christmas Cake and tea were passed out by the Auxiliary Ladies and music was enjoyed with 'Pop' Hart at the piano. Hyland Crest is fortunate in having a Staff who always take an interest in making it especially lovely and homey for the residents.

Miss Ella Forsyth spent Christmas with Mrs. E. Bursey and they, along with the Rawlins joined the Stinson's for Christmas dinner and evening of games. Bonnie Stinson and George Holliday were home for four days over the Christmas break.

Mr. and Mrs. Ken Rawlins visited his parents at Alkamall last week-end, and Miss May Spence and her friend visited the Rawlins over New Years. Mrs. Bursey entertained at New Years the Rawlins, the Stinsons and Mr. and Mrs. Sinc Russell of Carnarvon and Mr. Albert Hart.

We heard wonderful reports of the old-fashioned Christmas Concert at Zion United at Carnarvon. Old and Young alike love these special concerts and the capacity crowd seemed to feel that particular one was excellent.

The Stanhope Firemen sponsored a Christmas Party for seniors and the little people at the new Fire Hall on the North Shore Rd. They had gifts for all and refreshments. That same evening they held their own party and by all accounts these events were well attended and claimed as real successful parties. The Fire Chief is real proud of the enthusiasm of his men and the response they make to fire calls, practises each Monday evening and these special events all of which make for working together well and enjoying it.

RED CROSS SERVES YOU EVERY STEP OF THE WAY

IMPORTANT CHANGES EFFECTIVE JANUARY 1st, 1975

Your Canada Pension Plan

Here's good news... for CPP contributors – their surviving spouses and dependent children

Recent changes to the Canada Pension Plan will result in substantially increased benefits for 1975 and subsequent years. There are other important changes, too. Some affect people over 65 or approaching that age. Others provide equality for the spouses and dependent children of male and female contributors. These changes may require prompt action or getting advice. So we suggest you read this message very carefully.

1. Retirement Pensions
Have you contributed to the Plan at any time since January 1, 1966?

Are you between 65 and 69?

Then you have a choice.

Apply now and start receiving your monthly CPP retirement pension. No more need to retire to collect benefits. (Once you start receiving your pension, however, you can't make further contributions to the Plan.)

OR

Continue to contribute to the CPP and possibly build up a larger retirement pension to commence at a later date. Continuing to contribute is also a way to qualify survivors for benefits if you have not already done so. (When approaching age 70, you should consider applying for your retirement pension because after 70 you may no longer contribute to the Canada Pension Plan.)

NOTE: Before making your choice you may wish to seek advice from the nearest CPP office. The staff will be pleased to help you.

Are you approaching age 65?

If you have made your choice and want your CPP retirement pension to commence as early as possible, you should apply two or three months before your 65th birthday.

NOTE: There is no provision for retroactive payment of retirement pensions between the ages of 65 and 69. So if you're in that age group or approaching it, get advice as soon as possible.

Do you now receive a CPP retirement pension?

As of January 1st, 1975, your pension will no longer be affected by any money you earn thereafter.

2. Equal Protection for Males and Females.

This means that for female contributors, in addition to being eligible for a retirement pension and disability protection for themselves, and a death benefit payable to their estates, as has been the case in the past, their spouses and dependent children are now eligible for benefits as follows:

Benefits for Surviving Spouses

A monthly pension payable to the widower who at the time of the death of the contributor is over 35 years of age, or under 35 years of age but is disabled or has dependent children; that is, a benefit similar to that which has always existed for widows.

Benefits for Orphans

A monthly benefit payable to unmarried dependent children under 18 and to unmarried dependent children between 18 and 25 attending school or university on a full-time basis.

Organ donors can give the gift of life or sight

by David Woods

In 1967 Dr. Christiaan Barnard revolutionized medicine by performing the first successful heart transplant. Since then, several further such transplants have been performed, but the procedure has continued to encounter severe rejection problems and is rarely done today.

Transplants of other organs — notably the eye and kidney — have been performed for a longer period of time with considerable success. They are still saving the sight and lives of many people, although they attract much less fanfare and publicity than the heart operations.

For example, more than 300 corneal transplants took place in Ontario in 1973; a similar number will have been done in 1974.

Mrs. Anne Wolf, executive secretary of the Eye Bank of Canada's Ontario Division, says that the recipients of these "new" eyes are people with blurred vision caused by scarred corneas, or victims of industrial, home or auto accidents.

The donors, she says, come from among more than 100,000 Ontarians who have signed special cards granting permission for their eyes or other organs to be used after death. They realize, says Mrs. Wolf, that it's about the most dramatic gift they could ever offer.

Since 1956, when it was started, the Eye Bank's Ontario Division has received 7,749 donated eyes. Transplants, ideally, have to be done within 48 hours of the donor's death. Nearly 4,000 have been performed in Ontario with a high success rate.

The problem, says Mrs. Wolf, is to get enough donors. If you'd like to help, write to your nearest branch of the Canadian National Institute for the Blind.

The shortage of donor organs also slows up the successful work being done with kidney transplants, of which more than 100 are performed each year in Ontario.

Dr. George deVeber, director of Toronto Western Hospital's kidney transplant program, describes the shortage as "critical." Only about one-third of kidney failure patients — who are kept alive on dialysis machines — can get transplants. Even though the success rate for the operation is high, the donor organs just aren't available. This, says deVeber, is because most people just don't think about bequeathing their natural resources.

The solution, he says, is a universal donor card such as the one recently proposed for Ontario drivers' licences. The card would allow licence holders to be donors under the Human Tissue Gift Act if they sign a part of the licence to be designed for that purpose.

As transplants of other organs such as the heart, lungs and liver become as successful as those for the eyes and kidneys, there will be an increased demand for donors, says Dr. deVeber. You can perform a vital service in bequeathing your kidneys by contacting the Kidney Foundation of Canada, Ontario Branch, 1430 Yonge St., Toronto.

Donating organs after death may be something you'd prefer not to think about. But if you can save someone else's life or dramatically improve it, just by signing a card, it's well worth it. It may be the most far-reaching decision you ever made.

Jobs for 421 in December

The Canada Manpower Centre in Peterborough was responsible for placing 421 persons in regular employment during December. In addition 47 were placed in casual type work.

According to R. Johnston, Supervisor of Services, this figure is a significant increase over the 375 placements in November, and up from 358 in December of 1973. This increase in placements was mainly attributed to the hiring activity at the Post Office and the commencement of a number of L.I.P. projects.

At the end of the month 4616 were registered with Canada Manpower as being unemployed and seeking work. This figure includes 238 students seeking part-time work.

As of 31 December, 1974, 254 students were attending Sir Sandford Fleming College under the Canada Manpower Training Program. A number of vacancies are still open for January starts in this Training Program.

SNOW MOBILES DAMAGE GOLF COURSE

The operators of golf courses go to great expense each year seeding and tending the fairways and greens. In many cases an elaborate system of drainage tiles is installed just below the surface to carry away excess water so that golfers may be accommodated soon after each summer rain. When snowmobiles are driven over the course, the compacting of snow allows frost to penetrate, usually resulting in lifted tiles and an expensive repair job in the Spring.

The owners of the Haliburton Highlands Golf Course have very kindly consented to the use by snowmobilers of a roadway which runs alongside the course, and which provides an excellent link between Highway 519, at the Mac Donald farm near Gould's Crossing, and County Road 2 and Kashagawigamog Lake. This is, in fact, the best possible off-road connection from Kashagawigamog to the popular Tom Cowen Trail. It will be available to us only so long as we snowmobilers respect the fact that it is a private road, and STAY OFF THE FAIRWAYS.

Over the recent holiday, several inconsiderate riders made tracks all over the course. They are reminded that, if caught there again, they can be prosecuted for trespassing and charged with the cost of repairs. And the trail will be closed.

We have been informed that logging operations along the Hydro Line Trail to Whitney make that trail unsafe for travel on weekdays. Ride on weekends with caution.

Trail clearing by volunteer work parties has continued through the Christmas holiday. With sufficient snow now, and more coming, grooming operations should go into high gear. While we wait for slushy lakes to stiffen up, it is hoped that overland routes will get a good going over.

The New Year's Snowball held December 28 in the Legion Hall, Haliburton, was another very successful H.C.S.A. dance. Net proceeds are reported to be in the area of four hundred dollars. These dances have turned out to be the most effective of all H.C.S.A. fund-raising efforts. Another one will be scheduled soon.

Snowerama is now only a few weeks away. If you have not picked up your pledge sheet yet, please do so soon. Help us to make the Haliburton County ride one of the best in the Province. And pray that all slush will be dried up before February Second.

We note that several fine eating places are going all out to serve snowmobilers. Gelert Gardens is a favoured stopping place on trails leading from Minden, Irondale, Donald and Haliburton. At Haliburton Lake, (Fort Irwin) Bayview Birches and the Fort Irwin Grill will take care of your hunger. Jim and Shirley Lackey of Bayview Birches, will cater the hot lunch for Snowerama. At least, for riders out of Minden. Other arrangements may be made to feed the Haliburton starters. And as usual, the Cookhouse at Haliburton Forest and Wildlife Reserve will be a popular place to meet over hamburgers and coffee.

Finally, a word about safety. In my opinion the lakes are not yet ready to ride. Too little frost before the snow came, and with several inches of insulation over such ice as there is, there will not be good ice until the slush comes to the top and freezes. Play safe, keep off, and stay alive. Be extremely cautious on snowplowed roads. The Municipality will tow away cars parked overnight. Don't try to push them off the road with your snowmobile.

MEDLEY'S SPORTS MANY COMPETITIVE LEAGUES

Medley's Bowl in Carnarvon is the scene of many closely fought bowling leagues this season. This could, perhaps, be the finest season of all.

Take for example the Dorset Mixed league, just thirteen points separate the first team of Ev Rutledge from the last place team of Eileen Barry. And the United Church Ladies, twelve points between first and fourth. The Maple Lake Mixed league on Friday's has just completed their first series and the winning team of Ron Robinson Jr. just edged out second place Jack Harrison by three points. The last place team was only thirteen points back.

The Wednesday night Commercial Men's league is also having a banner year, with any one of four teams capable of taking top honors. The two new teams in the Commercial league are also beginning to jell. Minden Billiards and Highland Automotive are presently fifth and sixth but have been taking points from the top team's consistently the past month.

The highest average at Medley's this year, to date, belongs to Ron Robinson Jr. in the Maple Lake League with a superb 251. Ron also holds the highest triple bowled this year 953. Two players have come up with fantastic singles to date. John Swan and Neil Burk in the Wednesday Commercial Men's League both rolled 415's. Another shot in the arm for the caliber of bowler at Medley's is the fact that the out[illegible]on team in the Fenelon Falls Industrial league [illegible]ured the first series, giving them an automatic [illegible] the Championship finals.

They lead in over all points to date by 12-1.2 points and are tied for first in the second series. This team is the Minden Robins and consists of Ron Robinson Sr. and Jr., Doug Robinson, Bob Robinson, John Swan, Eddie Cox, Dave Sawyer and Cliff Burke.

Pearl Foster has captured the first series in the Tuesday Night Combines by six points over Eva Piper. However, Eva sports a perfect 21 points after three weeks of the second round, to hold down first place in the second series.

Ron Robinson Jr. captured the first series in the Maple Lake league and is presently one point behind his father's team in the second series.

Action at Medley's Bowl gets underway in all leagues again, commencing Monday January 6, after many of the teams took a two week Christmas break.

Sport Briefs

I would like to make one change in the All-Star game selections I had in the paper a couple of weeks back. Add Carol Vadnais to the defence in place of Jim McKenny.

It looks like the Stamp brothers, Craig and Darrell held their own private uprising in Des Moines, Iowa last week along with four of their teammates. However, it could be a costly one.

The Toledo Golddiggers were in Des Moines for an international Hockey league game when fans started heckling the Toledo players. Six of the Golddiggers decided to take on the whole arena, police and all, and ended up with charges of assault on a police officer, creating a disturbance, etc. However, what puzzles me is how could six players and a manager of the Toledo team get charged with all this and only one fan. Something is considerably out of whack here, or this had to be one fantastic fan to get the ire of seven people. I'm sure in the end all charges will be dropped as this was not the first such disturbance in this arena this year.

It would be a good idea if the brass of the International league take a good long look at this particular franchise in Iowa and demand greater policing in this arena.

Monarchs game reports

BY DWIGHT THOMAS

MONARCHS WIN

The Minden Monarchs, determined to start 1975 off in good style, put together an all-out sound effort last Friday night, at home, as they defeated Schomberg Kings by a 4-3 count. From the initial face-off the Monarchs outskated and out-checked the visitors to record their first victory of the season. They also did something that was sadly lacking in earlier games--they came out hitting and didn't relent until the final buzzer sounded. This resulted in numerous bouts of fist cuffs with the home side getting the better of the opposition. Sheridan Kellett outslugged Wayne Brown of Schomberg midway through the second period and then, near the end of the same period, John Parish landed a flurry of punches on the same player for a clear cut decision. Parish received 12 minutes for his part while Brown received just 4 minutes. In the third period Rick Dunsford and Jeff Campbell both received 10 minutes in different altercations.

After one period of play Minden trailed 1-0 but Mike Jackson's, low slapshot at 14.22 of the second knotted the score. Jeff Campbell put Minden ahead to stay after just 37 seconds of the third frame as he poked in a short-handed goal on a centering pass from Mike McElwain, who also drew an assist on Minden's first goal. Seven minutes later Bob Woodcock cashed in on passes from Rick Dunsford and Bill Watson to put Minden up 3-1. Just less than 3 minutes later Rick Dunsford scored the winning goal from close range, on passes from Watson and Jack Raymond. Schomberg scored two more goals late in the period, the last one 2 feet offside, to round out the scoring.

Larry Harfin made numerous excellent saves throughout the game while defensemen Woodcock, Parish and Larue applied several crunching bodychecks at the blueline. However, the big difference was in the forward ranks where Mike Jackson and company outhustled the visitors and forced them into many mistakes. And when the forechecking weren't forcing the play, they simply beat the visitors to the puck.

Congrats go to all members of the team for their splendid effort, one which the many loyal hometown fans were overdue in receiving.

Minden's next game is this Friday night in Minden at 8.45 p.m. when the rough and tough Flyers from Fenelon Falls provide the opposition. Minden travels to Bradford Tuesday, Jan. 14 for an 8.15 p.m. encounter.

Your money and credit

WHO USES CREDIT?

Consumer credit is using someone else's money — for a certain price and for a certain time. Using credit — spending the money you will have tomorrow — is something nearly everyone does these days. It is part of getting along in a complicated world and saving time and arranging things to suit yourself. It could give you the washing machine you need today and save you 25 cents a load at the laundromat which you would otherwise spend while trying to put aside enough cash to buy your own washing machine.

Some people criticize the use of credit. Some people even say that they have never used credit in their lives. But they forget that they use it for the telephone, the electric power, the gas supply. These services are supplied in advance of payment. Dentists send their bills at the end of the month, but they provide help when it is needed, often weeks before they ask for any money. This is credit.

Consumer credit is used by different people in different ways. If a person finds that travelling is the only way he wants to spend his holidays, then he might borrow for a trip or use one of the airlines' fly-now-pay-later plans.

Or perhaps buying a house is more important to an individual or family than having an exciting holiday every year. Lots of people think so.

Anyhow, everyone has the right to figure out how to use money and credit for personal satisfaction. Everyone uses them differently.

Just about everybody uses consumer credit. Rich people, average people and poor people — television actors and make-up men, students and teachers, stockbrokers and clerks, construction workers, window cleaners and developers, lawyers, bankers, salesmen.

They all use credit because they will be able to afford to pay more conveniently at a later date for something they want or need to have now.

This is one of a series of columns on money management, condensed from the booklet Your Money and Credit Today and Tomorrow, published by the Canadian Bankers' Association. Copies of the booklet, in English or French, are available free from the Association at P.O. Box 282, Toronto Dominion Centre, Toronto, Ontario, M5K 1A3.
